

Here's to Right Now

*You're surrounded by your loved ones
And all are wishing you well,
As you create a brand new chapter
In the story that's yours to tell.*

*We talk about the memories
You have yet to make together
And the moments you've already shared
To be carried with you forever.*

*But take the time to live today
As your marriage begins,
Look around and soak it up;
the moment we are in.*

*For this is where the magic starts
When you both say your vows.
You pledge to spend your lives as one
Because of the love you feel now.*

*So yes, here's to a future
that is bright and warm and clear.
But more than that, here's to right now
And what it means to be here.*