

I Was Meant for you

The sun, it did shine the day you came into my life and everything that was wrong became all right everything that was upside down turned around

And I smiled because finally my heart had found its home and I didn't need anyone to tell me that you are where I belong I knew, I just knew that it was you

And the morning sun it would rise and dance through the happiness that shone in my eyes And all my dreams they did come true every second that was spent with you And every wish I had ever made came to life that one fateful day

*And I smiled because finally my life and everything made perfect sense and I didn't need someone to tell me that this was love or what it meant I knew, I just knew
I was meant for you*
