

The Finest Thing

Among the finest things in life, a good marriage is the most satisfying and rewarding, the deepest and best of pleasures.

That blessed relationship uplifts, enriches, encourages and strengthens both husband and wife.

A loving marriage overcomes any obstacles the world may put in its way, strengthening the special marital bond with every challenge conquered.

Today is the start of something better than you can imagine.

May your marriage continue to be all that you dream of and more.

Joanna Fuchs